

Banks and credit unions are financial institutions that help you manage, save, spend, and borrow money.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A BANK OR CREDIT UNION ?

BANK:

You are a customer

Usually no membership Criteria

Banks are typically owned by shareholders and are for profit

CREDIT UNION

You are a member

There are criteria for membership—possibly location

Credit unions are owned by members and are not-for-profit

